

GERMAN DEVELOPMENTS
WHAT STREET EXPECTED

Danger of Immediate Break in Relations Believed to Have Passed By.

MARKET ACTS ON PROGRAM

Opening Weak, and Stocks Come in Generous Volume—Bargain Hunters Anticipated Greater Breaks, but Were Disappointed.

BY BROADWAY WALL

NEW YORK, May 5.—Developments in the German controversy to-day were exactly what Wall Street had anticipated. The note was not satisfactory, but the dispute cannot be settled for months, and in the meantime danger of a break is avoided. The market acted in strict accordance with this program. At the opening it was extremely weak, there being liquidation on the part of the outside public that was encouraged by professionalists who were short and wanted stocks for the purpose of covering. The stocks came in generous volume. Bargain hunters were on hand, but expected greater breaks than came, and were therefore disappointed.

PROLONGED WAR HELPS

The crop situation is not as good as might be desired, but the carry-over from last year is sufficient to insure the railroad industry. Indications of a prolonged war mean additional large profits for munition companies and for the United States Steel Corporation.

UNITED FRUIT BOUGHT

United Fruit was purchased heavily in the break and afterward for the account of people who are already in the shipping business. It is only a matter of time before the stock will be sold by the company.
